U.S.A. v. Randy Montante

1 Detroit, Michigan

2 Friday, August 12, 2016

3 At 1:31 p.m.

4 * * *

5 DEPUTY COURT CLERK: The Court calls case number
6 16-30350, United States of America versus Randy Montante.

7 MS. SMITH: Good afternoon, Your Honor. Maggie
8 Smith appearing on behalf of the United States.

9 THE COURT: Good afternoon, Ms. Smith.

10 MR. WISE: Andrew Wise on behalf of Mr. Montante.

11 THE COURT: Good afternoon again, Mr. Wise.

12 So it's my understanding this is the date and time
13 set for a detention hearing, correct?

14 MS. SMITH: That is correct, Your Honor.

15 THE COURT: And how does the government wish to 16 proceed?

17 MS. SMITH: The government intends on proceeding by 18 proffer.

19 THE COURT: Okay. You may proceed.

20 MS. SMITH: Thank you. Before I begin, may I hand
21 up three exhibits to the Court?

22 THE COURT: You may.

23 MS. SMITH: Thank you. May I begin?

24 THE COURT: Yes.

25 MS. SMITH: Thank you, Your Honor.

U.S.A. v. Randy Montante

1           The United States is seeking detention today on the
2 basis that the defendant is both a risk of flight and a
3 danger to the community.

4           This is a presumption case because the defendant has
5 been charged with various crimes related to the production,
6 receipt of child pornography and on-line enticement of a
7 minor.

8           THE COURT: Do you have a detention worksheet, by 9 the way, before I forget to ask?

10          MS. SMITH: No, but I can fill one out. I
11 apologize. Do you want it now or do you want it at the end
12 of the hearing?

13          THE COURT: Just so we don't forget.

14          (Brief pause in proceedings)

15          MS. SMITH: Your Honor, I'm going to show this to 16 the defense counsel before I pass it up.

17          THE COURT: Thank you. Do both sides agree that 18 this is a presumption case?

19          MR. WISE: Yes, Your Honor.

20          MS. SMITH: Thank you. Your Honor, there is one
21 minor victim that I will refer to throughout this case. It
22 is a female child born in the fall of 2002. During the 23 relevant time periods in this criminal complaint she was 13
24 years old.

25          On July 23, 2016, which was just a couple of weeks

U.S.A. v. Randy Montante

1 ago, minor victim one's mother reported to the police in New
2 Jersey, which is the state where the minor victim resides,
3 that her daughter had been texting, Skyping, using Kik and
4 various other social media applications, as well as texting
5 and calling the defendant, and had been doing so since
6 February of 2016.

7 Those communications were sexually explicit in 8 nature and included her transmission of images and videos
9 that were sexually explicit.

10 On July 21st, which was two days before she came to 11 the police, she had obtained minor victim one's phone, saw 12 these communications and communicated to the defendant that 13 her daughter was a minor and that he should leave her alone.

14 Between July 22nd and July 23rd, minor victim one
15 and the defendant continued to converse with each other, and 16 through Twitter they exchanged over 100 messages after minor
17 victim one's mother confronted the defendant. This is 18 between July 22nd at 11:16 a.m. and July 23rd at 8:31 a.m.

19 And among the things that the defendant instructed 20 minor victim one were the following. I'm going to read from 21 these messages, because I think that the Court can't get a
22 flavor for the facts of this case without hearing the types
23 of things that this defendant was saying.

24 MR. WISE: At this point can I make a request, since
25 Ms. Smith seems to be reading from a printed list of Twitter

U.S.A. v. Randy Montante

1 messages, that I could review that list.

2 THE COURT: Yeah, I'm wondering, is there a list I
3 can see, too, that might have dates and times?

4 MS. SMITH: Your Honor, I'm reading from a 24-hour
5 period of time. These are unredacted Twitter messages that
6 I'm happy to show to the defense and I'm happy to show them
7 to the bench, but I have received much of this information in 8 the last 48 hours, so I haven't had an opportunity to redact
9 that. But I'm happy to pass, to take a look, if that's 10 acceptable to the Court and to defense.

11 THE COURT: Sure. I understand that they're 12 unredacted. We're not going to enter them in the record so
13 that they're viewable, but I'd like to be able to follow
14 along, and I'm sure Mr. Wise would, as well.

15 MS. SMITH: Okay. If Your Honor would like, I can 16 -- if you would indulge me, I could make copies in the back, 17 okay?

18 THE COURT: Okay, that would be great.

19 (At 1:36 p.m., pause in proceedings)

20 (At 1:52 p.m., Court in session)

21 THE COURT: You may proceed when you're ready.

22 MS. SMITH: I'm sorry, I thought you were reading
23 the texts.

24 THE COURT: Well, I was, but this pile is a little 25 bit bigger, so I think I'll let you guide our way through.

U.S.A. v. Randy Montante

1 MS. SMITH: Thank you, Your Honor. As I was stating
2 earlier, on approximately July 21st, minor victim one's
3 mother had communicated with the defendant, letting him know
4 that she was a minor and that he should leave her alone.

5 The first packet of text messages that I gave a copy
6 to the defense counsel and to the Court are from Twitter, and 7 they span July 22, 2016 at 11:16 a.m. to July 23, 2016 at 8 8:31 a.m. And these are exclusively between minor victim one
9 and the defendant.

10 And as I go through these -- there's no page numbers
11 on here, so I'll give you the date and time as I go through.

12 On 7/22, at 11:21 a.m., which is the second page,
13 the defendant tells minor victim one:

14 "If you end up getting good at Hearthstone, we can 15 play one day. My Blizzard ID is --"
16 and then there's an identification.

17 Hearthstone, for the Court's reference, is an 18 on-line game that allows a chat feature.

19 On the next page, 7/22 at 11:29 -- excuse me, 11:25
20 a.m., the defendant tells minor victim one:

21 "Your parents are sneaky."

22 Two lines down, he says:

23 "Gotta watch out for them baiting me."

24 And this -- these two text communications are in response to 25 the defendant asking, if you will, security questions to

U.S.A. v. Randy Montante

1 minor victim one. And she answered them correctly, so he
2 felt it was safe to talk to her.

3 THE COURT: Okay, just give me one second. I want
4 to make sure I'm indeed on the correct page.

5 MS. SMITH: It would be the third page of the 6 Twitter messages.

7 THE COURT: Okay, I'm sorry. I'm on Skype.
8 Got it.

9 MS. SMITH: And about three quarters of the way
10 down, 7/22 at 11:26 a.m., the defendant says:

11 "Gotta find alternate ways to talk now."
12 On the next page, the two are discussing the fact that mom
13 telephoned the defendant.

14 And at 11:26, the defendant says:

15 "I was smart enough not to pick up."

16 And towards the end of the page, 11:29 a.m., the defendant
17 says:

18 "But yeah, alternate ways we can talk.

19 Hearthstone has a chat feature and you can play it
20 off as if you're playing a game."

21 Continuing to the next page, 11:30 a.m., he says:

22 "So add my Blizzard account when you have the 23 chance. It's --"

24 and then he gives the account.

25 Two lines down at 11:30, he says:

U.S.A. v. Randy Montante

1 "Also, when and if you get a laptop, download
2 Steam. And my account on there is --"
3 and he provides another account name.

4 "We weren't --"
5 Sorry.

6 THE COURT: You need -- I'm just trying to decide
7 whether I can mark or make notes on these. Do you need these 8 back?

9 MS. SMITH: They are unredacted. So to the extent
10 the Court intends on keeping them, I would ask they be placed
11 under seal. I would ask that the defendant return his copy
12 until I can give him a redacted copy.

13 THE COURT: Is that acceptable, Mr. Wise?

14 MR. WISE: That's fine.

15 THE COURT: Thank you. I will do so. Go ahead.

16 MS. SMITH: Thank you. In fact, most of the text
17 messages I'm going to read into the record are from the 18 defendant, so in order to kind of streamline this process,
19 unless I say otherwise, these are the defendant's texts.

20 Eleven thirty:

21 "But we weren't careful enough. If this is going 22 to be a thing, we have to be ten times more."

23 Eleven thirty-two:

24 "All I can think about is how to make it work.

25 But yeah, don't forget to add me on Blizzard and

U.S.A. v. Randy Montante

1           Hearthstone, so you don't forget."

2       Next page, 11:34:

3           "Gotta be extra careful. And when we talk a lot,
4           make sure no one knows. Make sure you know no
5           one's around."

6       Next page, 11:37 a.m.:

7           "Oh, and you have to act sad that we, quote,
8           aren't talking anymore, unquote, or they'll 9           suspect you're still doing it."

10      Eleven thirty-eight:

11           "We need to talk when you know they aren't 12           anywhere near."

14           "Don't forget to add my Blizzard."

15      And then he provides the screen name a third time.

17           "So just message me later or when you're alone.
18           Hang in there, princess. You know we'll make this 19           work."

20      Next page, 7:34 p.m. This is all on the same day, July 22nd.

21      The defendant asks minor victim one:

22           "What are the passwords?"

23      This is referring to the two passwords that he had previously
24      arranged for them to use to communicate.

25      Seven thirty-seven p.m.:

U.S.A. v. Randy Montante

1 "But also, we can't talk unless it's 100 percent
2 safe."

3 Two pages later, 7:54 p.m.:

4 "Send me a message later. Don't forget the 5 passwords. And only if it's 100 percent safe.
6 Delete all conversations."

7 Next page, 7/23 at 12:25 a.m.:

8 "Did they find the number of mine?"

9 And in this text, he's referring to her parents.

10 He then says:

11 "It's 313."

12 Next page, 12:27 a.m.:

13 "Also, what's your address so I have it?"

14 Next page, 12:33 a.m.:

15 "Also, my home address is --"

16 and he provides a house number on Highview in Dearborn.

17 "Put that somewhere no one will ever find it, even 18 accidentally."

19 Minor victim one asks:

20 "Should I give you mine?"

21 And the defendant says:

22 "Actually, don't. It might get found."

23 And then in the same minute, he says:

24 "Give me yours."

25 Next page:

U.S.A. v. Randy Montante

1           " That way, if the shit hits the fan, I'll still 2           have an idea where you are."

3       Next page, 12:41 a.m.:

4           " For real, only contact if you know for real it's
5           safe."

6           THE COURT:   What time was that one?

7           MS. SMITH:   That was 7/23 at 12:41 a.m.   It's the 8       second line at the top of the page.

9           THE COURT:   Okay, got it.

10          MS. SMITH:   Two pages later, at 12:48 a.m.:

11          " We weren't careful enough,"
12       the defendant says.

13          At 12:50, he asks minor victim one:

14          " Does your iTouch have Kik?   I mean, like for 15       months from now when it's safe?"

17          " And you can use it at school."

18       Twelve fifty-two, referring to the Kik app.   He says:

19          " You'd have to re-download and delete it every 20       time."

21       I'm going to direct the Court to the last page of this 22       packet.

23               The second from-the-last entry is at 7/23 at 8:07
24       a.m.   And it purports to be -- it's from minor victim one's 25       account, but it's minor victim one's mother.   This is the

U.S.A. v. Randy Montante

1 second time she has communicated with the defendant.

2 And she says:

3 "Wow, I --"

4 I think she means to say "you."

5 "-- didn't get the message the first time. My
6 daughter is 12 years old. I have screenshot
7 everything and I'm calling police to report you
8 for soliciting a minor. Stay the fuck away. She 9 won't be following any of your games to talk. I
10 have the screenshot of you directing her to talk
11 to you."

12 I'm going to skip his screen name there.

13 "To talk to you when it's safe."

14 And then she uses a curse word.

15 And the defendant responded to that message by 16 saying:

17 "I believe you meant you didn't message the first
18 time. And as far as I'm concerned, age of consent
19 is 18 in both New York and Michigan, not that that 20 would matter in this situation, as realistically,
21 what would happen anytime soon between us. I 22 would have rather held my tongue, but seeing as 23 that's no longer an option, so be it. I'm fairly 24 certain that you, of all people, should know, as 25 her mother, how she feels. From what she's told

U.S.A. v. Randy Montante

1 me about her friends --"

2 And I'm not going to name the names.

3 "-- they clearly don't fully respect her or get
4 her, and clearly neither do you. I'm not telling
5 you how to parent your child, but I am telling you
6 how I think she feels. We talked for at least
7 four months now. Now, why would anyone waste
8 their time talking to someone for four months?"

9 The last line indicates that he says to her that he genuinely 10 cares about her and her feelings.

11 And that was what was captured from the Twitter
12 message in less than a 24-hour period.

13 THE COURT: This whole packet?

14 MS. SMITH: Yes.

15 The next packet comes from Skype. And it begins on 16 7/26, which is just a couple days after mom has had the 17 second interaction with this defendant.

18 And minor victim one initiates the conversation that 19 says she sent a message on Kik:

20 "Just want to say hi. Things are calming down."

21 And the defendant says:

22 "I messaged back."

23 His messages are on the left-hand side, for the Court's 24 reference.

25 On the third page, about halfway down, minor victim

U.S.A. v. Randy Montante

1 one says:

2 "My mom told you my age. I didn't know if you
3 would talk to me again."

4 And the defendant says:

5 "Wait. Are you really 13 or 12? Like I'm 6 freaking out a little."

7 She says:

8 "Thirteen."

9 He says:

10 "Really?"

11 She says:

12 "Yup."

13 And he responds:

14 "Hmm. A good friend of mine said if you like 15 someone and it's real, age doesn't matter."

16 And on the very last page of this Skype chat, halfway down,
17 the defendant says:

18 "Well, with everything that's happened, I could
19 still totally go to prison if they dug shit up,
20 but I didn't know at that point."

21 She says:

22 "Wanta Kik then?"

23 Meaning go to the Kik application.

24 And he says:

25 "If it's safer than this, which it probably is.

U.S.A. v. Randy Montante

1 Delete all this, please."

2 At this point, minor victim one's mother has discovered that 3 the conversations have continued and she goes back to the 4 police station with her daughter.

5 Two interviews between law enforcement and minor
6 victim one took place within this time frame and I will
7 proffer the information from those interviews to the Court
8 when I finish with all of the electronic communications.

9 But at that point mom gives the passwords and the 10 on-line identity over to law enforcement.

11 The third packet of messages that the Court has 12 received and also for which defense counsel has received, and 13 I would also ask that those be treated in the same manner as 14 the other chats that I sent to the Court, these are Kik
15 messages between the defendant and who he believes to be 16 minor victim one. But at this point an undercover officer
17 takes over her account and begins to speak with him as her.

18 If you look at the first page where it says,
19 "communications and messages," the first one on the left has 20 the name Randy, with the screen name doImakeyourandy.

21 The chats on the right that are indented towards the 22 right, are from minor victim one's account. And again, this 23 is the undercover that's chatting from here, in this entire 24 package that I'm going through.

25 These messages begin on the third of August 2016,

U.S.A. v. Randy Montante

1 and this packet ends August 6, 2016. So this is over the
2 course of three days. And there are approximately close to 3 100 pages here of chats.

4 The chats begin with the undercover initiating the 5 conversation and saying:

6 "I just wanted to say hi and things are calming
7 down."

8 And the defendant responds:

9 "You have no idea how happy I am to see this."

10 And then he proceeds to ask her a test question to try to 11 make sure that who he's talking to is minor victim one.

12 Again, these don't have page numbers, so I'm going
13 to try to direct the Court through this as we go.

14 On page four, the last message from the defendant,
15 August 3, 2016, at 3:18 -- as a side note to the record, Your 16 Honor, the Kik messages are in UTC time, which is called 17 universal time, which means if you are wanting to convert it
18 to Eastern -- to our time zone, you would subtract four hours
19 or five hours, depending on whether or not we were on 20 daylight savings time.

21 At 3:18:55, the defendant says:

22 "You really need to delete anything and every time
23 we talk now."

24 On the next page, three-quarters of the way down:

25 "But yeah, even if it's a friendship, try not to

U.S.A. v. Randy Montante

1 talk to me unless you're the only one home or
2 you're completely alone and know it, because I
3 could legitimately go to prison."

4 Three pages later, 8/03 at 3:33, he says:

5 "Wait. So you're an eighth grader? Wow, you seem
6 legit like a high school senior talking to you.
7 Mind if I make a different Kik account and you
8 delete this one or block it from both your 9 accounts? I'll message you from there. I'll add
10 you from there. Delete everything from 11 everything."

12 The next page shows that within ten minutes the defendant had 13 set up a new account in Kik, with the name kamb, k-a-m-b.
14 The screen name is kamlanta, k-a-m-y-l-a-n-t-a.

15 Four pages later, towards the bottom, the undercover
16 says:

17 "I will only send face pics, no more videos."

18 And the defendant says:

19 "It hates (sic) me to say it, but yeah, I can't do
20 it. I'm going to miss it so much. You have no
21 idea. And obviously parts of me thought it was 22 amazing. You really are the worst tease. And 23 now, you're just jailbait tease."

24 THE COURT: What's the time on that?

25 MS. SMITH: That's -- this is a number of chats that

U.S.A. v. Randy Montante

1 go from 3:56 through 3:59.

2 THE COURT: Just one moment.

3 (Brief pause in proceedings)

4 THE COURT: Okay.

5 MS. SMITH: Two pages later, 8/03 at 4:02, so this 6 would be approximately midnight, maybe 11 p.m., depending on 7 whether daylight savings time is in effect.

8 The defendant says:

9 "Hey, do me a favor. Can you like delete our 10 conversation, like every five to ten minutes?"

11 The next page at the top:

12 "And always have a story of who you're talking to.

13 But you should never be in a situation where 14 someone even has a chance to catch you."

15 Two pages later, at the top. This is at 4:11. The defendant
16 tells who he believes to be minor victim one:

17 "Honestly, I'm pretty horny. Like, I'm not going 18 to lie."

19 On the next page he says:

20 "Also delete that."

21 Two pages later, towards the bottom. We're at August third,
22 at 4:19. He says:

23 "I kind of -- "

25 "-- I want you to go to the bathroom."

U.S.A. v. Randy Montante

1 And in context, Your Honor, throughout these cases -- or 2 excuse me, throughout these text messages, it appears that,
3 and we know from some of the forensics that minor victim one
4 made some of the videos in the bathroom.

5 Five pages later, 8/03 at 4:33, the defendant says:

6 "How are you feeling?"

7 And then he says, --"

8 "Hmm."

9 Next page:

10 "Want to go do something about it? You feeling
11 like a submissive little 18-year-old Catholic 12 schoolgirl? Well, I think you should go in the 13 bathroom. Lock the door, turn on the exhaust fan
14 if it has one. Tell me when you've done it."

15 The next thing he says is:

16 "Oh, do you have Julio?"

17 And as a side note, through this investigation it appears
18 that the name "Julio" refers to some sort of sexual object
19 that minor victim one had used on herself in prior videos.

20 The undercover answers:

21 "I have a highlighter."

22 And the defendant says:

23 "All right. Well, are you there yet? Send me a 24 pic of the highlighter."

25 Next page, halfway down, he says:

U.S.A. v. Randy Montante

1 "All right, go doggy style and use it."

2 Five pages later, 8/03 at 4:50, the defendant instructs:

3 "You should always hide your iPod. Make them
4 think you don't have one."

5 Next page at the top:

6 "Delete everything and hide the iPod."

7 The next pages starts another set of communications and 8 messages. And this is just how the forensics pulled these 9 chats into a format.

10 And 8/03 at 4:53, the defendant provides a new key
11 phrase. And the next chats discuss what this particular key 12 phrase is going to be in order for who he believes to be the 13 minor victim to know that it's her on the other side.

14 Six pages later, 8/05 at 3:09, he says:

15 "We've spent a lot of time talking together and I
16 care about you a lot, like a lot. But seriously,
17 if this is going to continue, you pretty much hold 18 my life in your hands. Promise me, if your 19 parents somehow find out we've been talking again,
20 tell them you told me you were 18 and I believed
21 you the whole time. In fact, after this, I'm 22 going to talk to you like you're 18 and in 23 college."

25 "Because if the cops find out, I'm going to go to

U.S.A. v. Randy Montante

1 jail for at least ten years."

2 At 3:12:

3 "But if they ask you, you have to tell them I
4 thought you were 18 and that you told me you were 5 the whole time, because if I can deny it, I'll be 6 fine. I researched it."

7 Next page, 3:13:

8 "The only way to get them off completely --"
9 and he's in parentheses here, he's referring to messages
10 on the phone.

11 "The only way to get them off completely is to 12 delete the app, because they're saved on the 13 phone. So from now on, yeah, delete the app and 14 re-download it when it is safe."

15 Two pages later, 8/05 at 3:19:

16 "You realize how incredibly illegal and bad this 17 is? Ha-ha. You're too cute, though."

18 Four pages, 8/05 at 3:26:

19 "I'll talk with you as long as you want to talk to 20 me,"

21 he says, to who he believes is minor victim one.

22 Next page, 3:28:

23 "I was talking to you about my sister and my 24 cousin, and I even told my Mom, when we got 25 caught, they all think you're 18, and that I can't

U.S.A. v. Randy Montante

1 talk to you anymore --"

2 Next page:

3 "-- because your parents are superconservative and 4 overprotective."

5 Three pages -- next three pages, at the top, 8/05 at 3:33,
6 the defendant asks:

7 "You still deleting the whole conversation every
8 so often? Gotta make it a habit."

9 Two pages later, towards the bottom, last line, 3:39:

10 "Realistically, if you can keep me safe, we'll 11 talk for a long time --"

13 "-- and meet one day."

14 Three pages, 8/05 at 3:45, at the top:

15 "My feelings toward you haven't changed."

16 At 3:46:

17 "Just gotta think about it differently."

18 Next page, at 3:48, he says:

19 "Trust me. I love --"

20 in all caps.

21 "I love dominating you. And I love how submissive 22 you are."

23 Next page:

24 "Probably the kinkiest was the clips, but I still 25 remember when you put Julio in your back door.

U.S.A. v. Randy Montante

1 God, I was so turned on."

2 Next page, 3:52:

3 "Before we got caught, I was going to --"

4 Next page,

5 "-- have you do stuff."

6 The undercover responds:

7 "Are you still going to have me do stuff?"

8 And the defendant says:

9 "Well, it'll be harder without Skype. You're 10 going to have to take a long video again, like you
11 did that one time."

12 And the word "one" is in quotes.

13 THE COURT: We obviously know from what you've told 14 us before what we believe Julio is. Do we know what the 15 clips were?

16 MS. SMITH: Yes, Your Honor. And I will refer to 17 that when I get into the forensic report.

18 THE COURT: Okay, thank you.

19 MS. SMITH: At this point, I would -- it has to do
20 with sex acts involving clothespins.

21 I'm going to direct the Court to -- I'm almost ten 22 pages later, at 8/05 at 4:30. Down at the bottom, the 23 sentence begins with.

24 "But yeah."

25 It's 8/05, 4:30:31.

U.S.A. v. Randy Montante

1 THE COURT: All right. Just a moment.

2 (Brief pause in proceedings)

3 THE COURT: Okay.

4 MS. SMITH: He says:

5 "But yeah, after tonight, after you delete this
6 app and refresh it, you're 18 and that's all I
7 know."

8 Next page:

9 "And that's why you'll tell people if we get
10 caught, you made me think you were 18. I mean,
11 you did. Ha-ha."

12 Two pages, 8/05 at 4:34 at the top, he asks:

13 "Have you deleted the conversation in a bit?
14 Don't forget to get rid of the app before you go
15 to bed, like un-install so the secret Kik messages
16 on the phone are gone too."

17 Three pages later, 8/05 at 4:40, the defendant says:

18 "I also want to see some other things."

19 Four-forty-one:

20 "I want to see your whole sexy body, including 21 your face."

23 "I want to see that look on your face while you're 24 pleasuring yourself. I want to see you tremble.
25 I want to see how wet you are."

U.S.A. v. Randy Montante

1 Four-forty-three:

2 "Well, I want to see you play with your ass. I
3 want to see you go doggy style."

4 Next page:

5 "Ass up and towards the camera. And I want to see
6 everything. I want to see and hear the moment you
7 come. I think that would be really sexy."

8 The undercover asks:

9 "You want me to send that to you?"

10 And he responds:

11 "More than anything."

12 Five pages later, 8/05 at 4:52, the defendant says:

13 "So I have an idea, you're going to have to start
14 it every time. Don't forget to delete and 15 un-install."

16 Your Honor, those are selected chats from a series that you
17 have the entire copy of, and for brevity's sake, I have 18 highlighted certain portions, but the entire chat log between 19 the undercover and the defendant says generally the same
20 thing, over and over again.

21 When the Court is ready, I will move on.

22 THE COURT: Okay. One moment.

23 (Brief pause in proceedings)

24 THE COURT: Okay.

25 MS. SMITH: Thank you. Minor victim one was

U.S.A. v. Randy Montante

1 interviewed during the course of this investigation. She
2 indicated that she is in the seventh grade. She attends a
3 Catholic school. She met the defendant on Omega at the end
4 of February of 2016.

5 And she admitted that she initially told him that
6 she was 18, but then began a couple -- I don't know the exact
7 time frame, but according to her, they took a couple weeks'
8 break between their conversations and then they started --
9 started up again, and she began hinting that she was only 13
10 by saying things like, "What if I was 13?"

11 She said when she would say that, he would just shut
12 her down. And, in fact, minor victim one said that at one
13 point the defendant said:

14 "You're so obsessed with saying you're 13."
15 There is a text message what was captured between the 16 defendant and minor victim one on June 2, 2016, where the 17 defendant refers to her being 13 years old and makes an 18 indication that:

19 "You say you're 13 and have a 4.0 grade point
20 average, and you know the types of things that 21 you've showed me. I don't believe you."

22 I would direct the Court to Exhibits B and C in your packet.
23 These are two images that were found on a flash drive of the 24 defendant's in his desk drawer. They are not pornographic in 25 nature. They are pictures of minor victim one standing in

U.S.A. v. Randy Montante

1 front of a mirror in her bedroom. These pictures are on a
2 wavy-type mirror. They are from approximately shoulders
3 down.

4 Exhibit B, as you can see, doesn't show her face.
5 It shows the child in a dress, a short dress with knee socks.
6 But what I want to direct the Court's attention to is this 7 whiteboard that's in the foreground of this image, that has 8 the words, "Home," and then "SOC." Underneath that, it says.

9 "One through six."

10 Three quarters of the way down, it says:

11 "Social studies, Spanish test, vocabulary."

12 Exhibit C is minor victim one in her school uniform. And 13 again, in the foreground is that whiteboard.

14 Minor victim one said that through the course of her
15 communications with the defendant, it, quote, became normal
16 to send pictures. They talked every day. In fact, she said
17 some days it was all day, from seven a.m. to five a.m. (sic)
18 and she didn't go out. She just stayed and talked to the 19 defendant.

20 She indicated that they frequently, if not daily,
21 live-cammed over the Skype webcam program. Defendant would 22 ask her -- let me back up.

23 During those webcam sessions, the minor victim one
24 would perform sex acts for him.

25 The defendant would ask her at times for pictures

U.S.A. v. Randy Montante

1 and videos, sometimes specific and sometimes he would
2 generally talk about sexual topics or things he generally
3 liked, which she believed to be indicative of what he wanted
4 her to make for him.

5 Turning to August 10th, which was two days' ago, the 6 FBI executed a search warrant at the defendant's residence.
7 And that was based on these communications, as well as the 8 three videos that were found in minor victim one's phone,
9 which are listed in the criminal complaint.

10 I know the Court is familiar with the complaint, so
11 I'm not going to go through those videos in detail.

12 The defendant was home that day and agreed to an 13 interview. At the beginning of the interview, the 14 defendant's attitude, if you will, is kind of aloof. In 15 fact, he says to the agent, "This is like Chris Hanson on To 16 Catch a Predator."

17 If the Court isn't familiar with Chris Hanson and To 18 Catch a Predator, that was a very widely-known popular series
19 back in the mid to late 90's, I believe, where Chris Hanson
20 would work with law enforcement to set up undercover
21 operations where grown men would come to have sex with 22 children at various houses.

23 The defendant admitted to sending -- excuse me. The 24 defendant admitted that she sent pictures and videos that 25 were sexually explicit in nature. He indicated that he

U.S.A. v. Randy Montante

1 believed her to be 18 years old.

2 That day he explained to his parents that the reason
3 why the police -- excuse me. Why the FBI was at the house,
4 was because of an 18-year-old girl.

5 And he indicated also that he spent time
6 volunteering at a camp for bereaved children at Henry Ford
7 Hospital.

8 The defendant agreed to take a polygraph. At this
9 time the results are still pending of that polygraph. I
10 believe the results are going to come back inconclusive. And 11 so I don't have anything -- I'm not going to be relying on 12 any polygraph results for this hearing.

13 But after the polygraph, he admitted that he did
14 continue to ask for pictures and videos of minor victim one
15 after he was confronted by her mother.

16 Law enforcement that day seized two flash drives out
17 of the defendant's desk drawer, a number of cell phones, two 18 computers and three laptops.

19 THE COURT: You say "two computers." Do you mean
20 two desktops?

21 MS. SMITH: Yes.

22 If you recall from the criminal complaint, the 23 defendant had told minor victim one that he saved her
24 pictures and videos on a flash drive. There, in fact, on one
25 of the flash drives, is a number of images and videos that

U.S.A. v. Randy Montante

1 are sexually explicit in nature.

2 Under a folder that contains the minor victim's
3 initials, there are 66 files. These are images and videos,
4 most of which are sexually explicit. These include the minor
5 victim with objects penetrated in her vagina, and videos of 6 her masturbating, a picture of her with black duct tape,
7 which corroborates with the video that was on her cell phone.

8 There are images and videos of minor victim one with 9 clothespins or clips on her nipples.

10 Additionally, outside of the minor victim one
11 folder, there's a number of other folders with two letters,
12 which we believe to be initials.

13 Some of the -- there are some folders that have 14 celebrity nude pictures that are divided by category, by a
15 particular celebrity. And then there's these other folders
16 that have letters that appear to be initials.

17 We've been able to, just by sight, see that 18 approximately four girls in this thumb drive are four 19 different girls besides the minor victim that are taking 20 selfies in a mirror in a bedroom in some various stages of 21 undergarments.

22 The rest of the material is -- I will quantify it as 23 either age-difficult or as so close up we can't at this point
24 in time tell what we're looking at.

25 THE COURT: But the four that you're describing, are

U.S.A. v. Randy Montante

1 those obviously underage or not?

2 MS. SMITH: Yes. They are girls that appear to be
3 between the ages of 11 and 13 years old.

4 MR. WISE: And, Judge, if I'm hearing correctly
5 though, they are not nudes.

6 MS. SMITH: Not the -- no. They are pictures of 7 girls in underwear and pajamas. The other pictures --
8 there's a number of pictures without faces, and this is what 9 we have from the preliminary review.

10 The second flash drive that was found in the top
11 dresser drawer -- or sorry, desk drawer, next to this other 12 flash drive, is encrypted, and we haven't yet been able to 13 get in that flash drive, so I don't know what's in there.

14 The defendant's cell phone took a remarkably long
15 time to unload over the last two days into the system. As 16 far as I understand at this point there's very little
17 information I can proffer the Court.

18 It appears that it's -- it appears that it's clean
19 in the sense that it's consistent with the defendant's 20 instructions to keep deleting aps and deleting texts every 21 couple of lines.

22 The only other thing I would proffer to the Court
23 this afternoon is Exhibit A, which is just a map of the 24 defendant's residence. And it just shows that his house is,
25 for lack of a better term, within a stone's throw of Divine

U.S.A. v. Randy Montante

1 Child Elementary School and High School. And five blocks
2 over is Crestwood High School, as well as a park. Also, on a
3 block to the other side is another park.

4 According to the pretrial services report, the 5 defendant has traveled internationally on four occasions to 6 the Philippines, where he has family, most recently went in 7 November of 2015.

8 That's all I have to proffer, Your Honor. The 9 pretrial services report does recommend detention.

10 THE COURT: Thank you. Mr. Wise?

11 MR. WISE: Yes, Your Honor. In terms of a proffer, 12 I would proffer the entire pretrial services report to the 13 Court.

14 I would also proffer to the Court that Mr.
15 Montante's parents are in the courtroom. They are prepared
16 to act as third party custodians for him.

17 THE COURT: And I want to acknowledge that. I've 18 looked out and I've seen a number of people who I assume are 19 here for this hearing. So I want to acknowledge the presence
20 of his family for a number of reasons, one of which is that I
21 -- it's always an admirable thing when people come to support
22 a member of their family who's been accused of a crime.

23 It's not an easy thing to do. And many people don't 24 do it. I've seen many people standing where your son or your 25 brother is and there's -- nobody in the world has shown up in

U.S.A. v. Randy Montante

1 court. Nobody has made the time to come here. And you have,
2 so I appreciate that.

3 The other reason I mention it is because I know that 4 the content of this particular hearing is or must be 5 extremely difficult to listen to.

6 I can see that there are tears flowing in the back
7 of the courtroom. And I just want to acknowledge that I
8 understand that this is really a very traumatic event for 9 you, as a family, and regardless of how the outcome is today,
10 I know that this is very painful.

11 So I make no promises about how I'm going to rule.
12 I have the facts to listen to and consider, and I have the 13 law that I have to follow, but I want to acknowledge that 14 you're here and that I know it's not easy to be here.

15 MR. WISE: I would also proffer to the Court that 16 his mother, Ruth, is a cardiac nurse, works for Henry Ford
17 Health Systems.

18 His father, Andres Montante, who's present in court,
19 is retired from the City of Detroit where he worked as an
20 accountant. And again, they're both willing to act as third
21 party custodians in this matter.

22 THE COURT: He was a City of Detroit accountant, you
23 said?

24 MR. WISE: Correct.

25 And then I would adopt, I guess, the entirety of the

U.S.A. v. Randy Montante

1 government's submission with the text messages. In going
2 through them, there's a couple of them that I noticed just
3 real quickly that I think are particularly relevant that Ms.
4 Smith did not mention.

5 The Twitter messages, 7/22 at --

6 THE COURT: Hold on. Let me get to the Twitter
7 messages first. That was the first packet we went through,
8 right?

9 MR. WISE: Correct.

10 THE COURT: Okay, 7/22. What time?

11 MR. WISE: I'm having trouble. I didn't want to 12 mark these up. Oh, at 7/22 at 11:34, towards the bottom of 13 the page, Mr. Montante apparently is talking about minor
14 victim one having been sent to college.

15 She responds:

16 "I'm not allowed to live in the dorm."

17 Seven-twenty-three, 12 --

18 THE COURT: Well, it says:

19 "They'll send you to community college."

21 THE COURT: Okay.

22 MR. WISE: And then she's talking about not being 23 allowed to live in the dorm, which --

24 THE COURT: Okay.

25 MR. WISE: -- I can argue about that later.

U.S.A. v. Randy Montante

1 Seven-twenty-three at 12:44, and this is in response, I
2 think, to the communication from the mother.

3 "It was weird for her to call me a pedophile and 4 say you're a minor."

5 THE COURT: I saw that, too. Let me just find it.
6 The time on that was 11:44?

7 MR. WISE: Twelve-forty-four.

8 THE COURT: I'm not finding it. It's on 7/22 or am
9 I on the wrong date?

10 MR. WISE: I'm sorry, 7/23.

11 THE COURT: Got it.

12 MR. WISE: I think Ms. Smith went through the Skype
13 chats, but I think it's pretty -- to me, it seems like the 14 whole context of it, the thing is that Mr. Montante is only 15 now beginning to realize that the minor victim is, in fact, a
16 minor.

17 Then with respect to the Kik messages, which are in 18 the forensic report, Mr. Montante, at -- that's August 3rd,
19 3:10:36 asks:

20 "Why didn't you tell me how old you actually were 21 a while ago, though?"

22 And the undercover at this point responds:

23 "Thought you wouldn't like me. But I'm sure you
24 knew I wasn't 18 when you saw me. But I thought
25 you didn't care."

U.S.A. v. Randy Montante

1 Mr. Montante responds:

2 "Well, that was a little irresponsible. This age
3 gap is kind of massive. I honestly thought you
4 were. You look mature."

5 And then it goes on.

6 THE COURT: Give me the time again on that series,
7 please?

8 MR. WISE: So that's the first page of the Kik chats

10 THE COURT: Got it.

11 (Brief pause in proceedings)

12 MR. WISE: Then going ahead to August 5th at 3:56,
13 this is the -- Ms. Smith had mentioned this passage with 14 respect to the communication about the videos, response to, I
15 think, the undercover, trying to get Mr. Montante to admit to 16 which videos he was thinking of, he responds at 3:56:29 on 17 August 5th, the only video (inaudible).

18 Then go ahead to 4:44, where he's discussing having 19 a video sent to him from the bathroom. At 4:44:59, he says:

20 "If you don't want to, you don't have to. It's 21 fine."

22 THE COURT: And I noticed that previously.

23 MR. WISE: And with -- and I haven't had a chance to 24 go through all these chats thoroughly, but I have and there
25 are more passages like that out of the bulk of this, and

U.S.A. v. Randy Montante

1 essentially that's what I have to proffer at this point.

2 THE COURT: Okay. Ms. Smith, any factual rebuttal
3 before you move on to argument?

4 MS. SMITH: Only to say, Your Honor, that if the 5 defendant is suggesting that there is only one video of her,
6 that's simply not true. It's belied by what I've seen so far
7 on the preliminary review of that flash drive.

8 THE COURT: Okay.

9 MS. SMITH: I am prepared to argue.

10 THE COURT: All right. Please do.

11 MS. SMITH: Thank you.

12 Your Honor, this is a presumption case, and the 13 government believes that we've shown probable cause that the 14 defendant committed the crimes charged in the criminal 15 complaint.

16 I'm going to get to the timing in a minute, but 17 because this case really can be looked at, I think, in two 18 different sections, everything that happened before July 22nd
19 and everything that happened after July 22nd.

20 But suffice it to say that a production of child
21 pornography count does not require knowledge of age in order
22 to be convicted at trial.

23 On-line enticement of a minor, receipt of child
24 pornography both require that the defendant know or thought
25 that who they were talking to were under age, but production

U.S.A. v. Randy Montante

1 does not have such a requirement.

2 The probable cause that I've shown today is based on
3 a number of factors from the criminal complaint and affidavit
4 that was signed.

5 MR. WISE: Your Honor, we're not contesting the fact
6 that they have established probable cause to invoke the 7 presumption in this case.

8 THE COURT: Okay.

9 MS. SMITH: Okay. Thank you. I'll move on.

10 The government also believes that it has met the 11 factors under 18 United States Code Section 3142(g) to 12 warrant detention.

13 The nature and circumstances of this offense
14 obviously are serious. When we look at what the defendant
15 knew before mom got involved, we only have a very small
16 portion of that. And that is because the defendant directed 17 minor victim to delete everything she had.

18 She has indicated in her interview that she hinted
19 that she told him that she was underage. The Court has 20 Exhibits B and C, which are two images that minor victim sent 21 to him.

22 THE COURT: Do we know when those were sent?

23 MS. SMITH: Not at this point, no, not yet. But I
24 would suggest to the Court that there is homework written on 25 that white board. So I would think that you can infer that

U.S.A. v. Randy Montante

1 it was probably during the school year, particularly when
2 she's in her school uniform in one of those pictures, which
3 would be before June of -- or middle of June of this year.

4 THE COURT: Okay. I'm not sure what to infer from 5 it, though, because she could be 18 years old and in the 6 second semester of her senior year. So the fact that she is 7 in school doesn't necessarily tell me that she's a minor.

8 MS. SMITH: Not necessarily, but I would suggest to 9 the Court that seniors in high school don't take vocabulary
10 as one of their subjects.

11 THE COURT: Unless you had Mr. Krause.

12 MS. SMITH: Whether -- we also have that
13 corroborates with what the minor victim is saying. We have a
14 text message from June 3rd, where the defendant talks about 15 that he doesn't believe that she is 13, as well as the minor
16 victim saying that he in fact said that he believed she was 17 obsessed with talking about how she was 13.

18 Whether or not he believed her to be 13, whether or 19 not he was willfully blind, whether or not he had no idea, 20 this case really turns the day that mom becomes involved and 21 informs this defendant that he is, in fact, talking to a
22 minor and she tells him to go away.

23 And his response to that is to do the exact
24 opposite. And when minor victim one contacts him, he not 25 only continues the conversation, he then starts to instruct

U.S.A. v. Randy Montante

1 her on specific alternative ways to contact her. Repeatedly
2 and relentlessly, he instructs her to delete her tracks.
3 Every couple of lines "delete it, every night delete that app
4 and download it again in the morning."

5 At no time does the defendant say, "We need to 6 stop." He may have a lot of conversations in these chats
7 where he says, "I thought you were 18," but at no time does
8 he say, "Now that I know the truth, this needs to end." He 9 recognizes her age, because, in fact, he's researched what 10 his possible defenses will be when the police show up. Not 11 only has he done that, he's instructed her on what to say.

12 This is a case about a man who pursued a 13-year-old
13 girl. Her mother, not once, but twice confronted this 14 defendant and told him to stop. And it did nothing to deter
15 his conduct.

16 He made comments to the minor victim about her
17 parents, that they were trying to bait him, that they were 18 sneaky, in an effort to get her to trust him over them.

19 And even after, he's having a conversation with the 20 undercover, and I read many of those chats, he was completely
21 undeterred, asking her to produce specific videos of specific 22 sex acts for his pleasure.

23 Your Honor, the weight of the detention -- of the 24 evidence for detention in this case, is equally strong. This 25 defendant clearly has a -- I don't want to use the term

U.S.A. v. Randy Montante

1 "relationship." I don't want to use the term "obsession."
2 But he certainly has a drive to do whatever he needs to do to
3 continue to talk to this child. And this isn't a 17-year-old
4 who is on -- is six months away from graduating high school.
5 She is 13.

6 In terms of his family ties, I recognize that his 7 family is here, and I'm sure that they love him. I would
8 note that he lied to them about what the nature of the search
9 warrant was. He also indicated in the chats that he had this 10 entire plan set up with some sort of escape method. And that 11 escape method, I would point out, includes minor victim one's 12 participation in a lie.

13 And when we think about whether or not he poses a 14 danger to any person, including minor victim one, I would 15 suggest to the Court that the number of times that this 16 defendant has attempted to get minor victim one to go along
17 with the story, to ensure that when the police come to her,
18 that she lies and says that she said she was 18 this whole
19 time, it also supports detention.

20 This defendant doesn't have any past criminal
21 history. That's not necessarily surprising in a case such as 22 this. This defendant has admitted to having some interaction
23 with marijuana. In terms of flight risk, this defendant has 24 international ties. He's got family in the Philippines. He 25 had been there approximately maybe six months ago, a little

U.S.A. v. Randy Montante

1 bit more than six months ago.

2 The preliminary forensic review, Your Honor, showed 3 us that there's at least four more investigations that we
4 have to explore regarding this defendant and his behavior.

5 And I would -- I would argue to this Court that 6 based on all of this, all of these chats, all of the 7 information that's been proffered today, that no condition or 8 combination of conditions is going to reasonably assure the 9 safety of other persons or the community. And pretrial
10 services recommends detention and so does the United States.

11 THE COURT: Thank you. Mr. Wise?

12 MR. WISE: Thank you, Your Honor. With respect to 13 risk of flight, I don't think that -- I mean, pretrial
14 services certainly has not found Mr. Montante to be a risk of 15 flight. It's true that he does have ties to the Philippines.
16 His parents are immigrants.

17 However, I think the Court can minimize any risk of 18 flight in this case sufficient to assure (inaudible) grant
19 bond by imposing conditions on Mr. Montante, particularly 20 that he surrender any of his travel documents.

21 And because of the nature of this charge, the Court
22 is required to impose some kind of location monitoring on Mr.
23 Montante if he is released on bond.

24 We think those two conditions, particularly combined
25 with third-party custodianship of his parents, should

U.S.A. v. Randy Montante

1     alleviate any risk of flight whatsoever.

2             With respect to dangerousness, the argument that I
3     heard Ms. Smith make is that Mr. Montante poses a danger to 4     one particular minor victim in this case.

5             THE COURT:   Isn't that enough?

6             MR. WISE:   No, certainly it is.

7             THE COURT:   I mean, under the statute, as a matter
8     of law, that's enough, isn't it?

9             MR. WISE:   No.   If the Court finds that to be true
10    and finds that there are no conditions that can reasonably
11    assure the safety of that victim.

12            And, of course, it's our argument that the Court can
13    impose those conditions.   In these types of cases, generally
14    the Court is looking at an argument from the government that 15    this person poses a danger to the community as a whole
16    generally, children everywhere, potential minor victims
17    everywhere.   This is not that kind of case.

18            In this case, Mr. Montante established this 19    relationship based on the evidence that we've heard so far.
20    What it looks like to me, he established this relationship
21    with the minor victim not knowing that she was a minor,
22    believing that that was 18.

23            Eventually, certainly there was information
24    presented to Mr. Montante that should have made him seriously
25    question that belief, should have made him believe otherwise

U.S.A. v. Randy Montante

1 if we believe the evidence that has been proffered. .

2 And he did persist in communications with this
3 individual.

4 THE COURT: What about -- what about the -- I
5 realize that they were in underwear rather than nude, but 6 what about four different girls between the ages of 11 and 7 13, photos of that? Doesn't that demonstrate a sexual 8 interest in underage girls?

9 MR. WISE: I --

10 THE COURT: Generally?

11 MR. WISE: Well, I don't know, because I haven't
12 seen the images. They are not charged as child pornographic.
13 I don't believe that there is any allegation that those 14 images are illegal.

15 What Mr. Montante's interests are or aren't, he 16 doesn't appear to have a massive collection of child
17 pornography. He takes objection to being referred to as a
18 pedophile or -- you know, when he's confronted about her
19 being under 13, that throws him off.

20 Looking at the pictures in Government Exhibits B and 21 C, she could appear to be 18, appears to be certainly 22 post-pubescent.

23 THE COURT: We can't tell actually with those,
24 either way. I mean, it cuts both ways. As I said to Ms.
25 Smith, you can't tell that she's under 18, but you can't tell

U.S.A. v. Randy Montante

1 -- she doesn't necessarily look like she's over-age, either.

2 MS. SMITH: She's not prepubescent. I will offer
3 that to the Court. She is not prepubescent, no.

4 THE COURT: I mean, for -- that photo just doesn't
5 show me enough.

6 MS. SMITH: Uh-huh.

7 MR. WISE: But the point I'm arguing here to the 8 Court is I think that the concern here is can we protect a
9 limited set of potential victims, whether it be one or five?

10 This is not a situation where Mr. Montante is in 11 chat rooms, talking with other people trying to get child
12 pornography. He doesn't appear to be conversing with the 13 minor victim trying to get pictures of her friends. At least
14 the preliminary forensics don't reveal the kind of collection
15 that we see the FBI regularly put into search warrants and 16 complaints that people who have an interest in child
17 pornography tend to amass.

18 So what I'm suggesting to the Court is that the 19 evidence in this case suggests that Mr. Montante had a
20 particular relationship with this particular person, was not 21 aware of her age when it started, became aware of her age,
22 continued the conversations that had been going on for months
23 before.

24 She is certainly reaching out to him, and of course,
25 he didn't have to reach back, but I think that's a factor

U.S.A. v. Randy Montante

1 that the Court can consider.

2 And given the fact that this victim lives in New 3 Jersey, Mr. Montante lives in Michigan, that the Court is 4 going to impose travel restrictions, location monitoring as a
5 condition of bond, and given the fact that pretrial services
6 has available to it computer monitoring.

7 The family certainly is willing to ensure that Mr.
8 Montante doesn't have unmonitored access to cell phones,
9 computers or the internet. I don't know that it's
10 particularly realistic, given the fact that Mr. Montante
11 hopes to be enrolling in college this fall, to keep him off
12 computers entirely. But if that's a necessary condition,
13 it's certainly at the Court's availability.

14 And we think if the Court were to impose bonds with 15 all those conditions, the Court could reasonably be assured
16 that Mr. Montante is not going to engage in communications
17 with this particular minor or any other minors. Therefore,
18 the Court should set bond with those conditions.

19 THE COURT: Thank you.

20 Ms. Smith, in rebuttal, I would like you to respond
21 to the argument that there's only an interest shown in one 22 person, who he didn't know at the time that the 23 communications began, was underage.

24 MS. SMITH: Your Honor -- yeah, I can address that.
25 Whether or not he has a collection of child pornography, how

U.S.A. v. Randy Montante

1 many children he talked to in chat rooms, we just don't know,
2 because he has been very successful in deleting his tracks.

3 We were able to identify minor victim one through
4 minor victim one's mother. I don't know standing here today
5 what will come of the other four girls that we have seen on 6 that flash drive, or what will come when we do a forensic 7 review.

8 But if you read through these chats, this defendant
9 has spent an enormous amount of time and energy trying to 10 hide from what he's doing, trying to instruct this child to 11 hide what she's doing. And I would suggest that that goes to 12 the history and characteristics of this defendant. I don't 13 know what we are going to find, but I believe that what we 14 found so far is alarming.

15 And I think that the Court should be concerned with 16 the fact that this defendant has lied to every single person
17 about this case. Maybe even himself at some point. He has 18 told his parents that this was about an 18-year-old girl. He 19 was confronted by this child's mother, who I cannot imagine
20 would be a more unpleasant experience when you have been 21 told, "I have screen-shotted what you've done and I have sent 22 this to the police." And it does nothing to deter him.

23 THE COURT: Well, he did correct her grammar.

24 MS. SMITH: Yes, he did. He did. And then he told
25 minor victim how to get better at hiding her activities.

U.S.A. v. Randy Montante

1 I would suggest to the Court that these four other
2 girls were saved to a separate flash drive for a reason.
3 These aren't images that are found in deleted space somewhere
4 on the desktop. These are images he chose to move over and 5 save outside of his computer.

6 This is a defendant who knows how to be sneaky. He
7 knows how to get what he wants. And if he is willing to go
8 to these lengths when faced with a potential of the prison
9 time that he has already recognized he's facing, I would 10 suggest that he cannot be trusted on bond to behave himself.

11 I would also suggest, as I stated before, that minor
12 victim one's participation in this escape plan is essential
13 for him. That places her in danger, not just for that 14 reason, but also for her emotional well being, for her
15 ability to talk freely about what's happened to her.

16 I believe he's a danger not just to her, but to all
17 children in the community. And for all those reasons, I ask
18 that you detain this defendant.

19 THE COURT: Thank you.

20 MR. WISE: Your Honor, I would just like to respond.
21 I'm hearing the government essentially argue that Mr.
22 Montante should be detained in part because we don't have 23 evidence. And I think that's a totally inappropriate
24 consideration for the Court. The Court should base its 25 determination on the facts before it, with the evidence that

U.S.A. v. Randy Montante

1 the government has, not what Mr. Montante may have
2 hypothetically done to somebody else, because that's
3 certainly just speculation before the Court. Totally 4 inappropriate.

5 THE COURT: I appreciate that, Mr. Wise. And you
6 can rest assured the Court will not base it's opinion on the 7 evidence we don't have. It's about to base its opinion on 8 the evidence that we do. Okay.

9 Mr. Montante, as I explained to you when you were in 10 front of me a few days ago or -- yeah, it was a few days ago,
11 earlier this week. This is the time that we have what's 12 called a detention hearing to determine whether you should be 13 released on bond as you know, or whether you should be 14 detained and kept in federal custody.

15 Now, In most cases, the presumption is that you
16 would be released subject to conditions that the Court would 17 set. And what the Court is trying to do in setting
18 conditions for bond is reasonably assure the safety of the 19 community, and reasonably assure that you will appear for 20 court appearances and as necessary.

21 DEFNDANT MONTANTE: I understand, Your Honor.

22 THE COURT: Okay. Now, that presumption in certain 23 kinds of cases, and this is one of them, because of the 24 nature of the crimes alleged, shifts, so that it is presumed 25 in a presumption case that no condition or combination of

U.S.A. v. Randy Montante

1 conditions will reasonably assure the safety of the 2 community, and no condition or combination of conditions will
3 reasonably assure your appearance. So that's the starting 4 point here.

5 Your attorney has indicated it's not being
6 challenged that there is probable cause here. And in any 7 case, the Court, both based on that stipulation, but also
8 based upon the evidence that I've heard, does find probable
9 cause to believe that the crimes alleged in the complaint
10 have been committed.

11 And if I could find a copy of the complaint, I would 12 say more on that. Here it is. Namely, probable cause to 13 believe that you committed the crime of production of child
14 pornography, probable cause to believe that you committed the 15 crime of receipt of child pornography, and probable cause to 16 believe that you committed the crime of on-line enticement of 17 a minor.

18 I understand, as counsel for the government has 19 explained, that there is some of those there needs to be 20 knowledge, but here, given the time line, the Court finds 21 that while there may not have been knowledge at the 22 beginning, there was certainly knowledge at the end.

23 Because at some point, very clearly, you were 24 informed of the actual age of this child. And make no
25 mistake about it, she's a child. I don't care how -- what

U.S.A. v. Randy Montante

1 the photos look like or anything else. She is a child and
2 the evidence would show that you knew she was a child and
3 continued down this path and continued to ask her, when in 4 fact, at that point, it was an undercover agent, to engage in 5 sexually explicit conduct, with very specific requests to do
6 very specific acts to gratify yourself.

7 So I find that there is probable cause. So because
8 of that, the presumption goes in favor of detention. Now,
9 that's a rebuttable presumption. Your attorney, through his 10 presentation, may convince the Court that that presumption
11 has been rebutted, in which case essentially the ball gets 12 punted back to the government, and the government may still 13 establish that you should be detained.

14 In making all these determinations, I am instructed
15 by a statute that was passed by Congress some time ago called 16 the Bail Reform Act. The Bail Reform Act, specifically under 17 Title 18 of the United States Code, Section 3142(g), asks me
18 to consider four factors in making my determinations
19 regarding this case.

20 Ms. Smith has addressed some of those factors, your 21 attorney has addressed some of those factors. So let me talk
22 about them.

23 The first of those factors is, number one, the 24 nature and circumstances of the offense charged. And that 25 includes whether it involves a minor victim. That's one of

U.S.A. v. Randy Montante

1 the specific things we are asked to look at in considering
2 the nature and circumstances of the offense charged. And
3 it's not just the actual title on the charge. It's broader 4 than that, because I'm looking at the nature and 5 circumstances surrounding the charge.

6 Here, the nature and circumstances of the charge is 7 very serious. The charges themselves are very serious
8 because they involve a minor victim and sexually explicit 9 conduct.

10 There is no such thing as a victimless crime of this 11 nature. Sometimes people think that if they are dealing with 12 someone anonymously or someone they didn't actually have 13 direct contact with, that that is somehow victimless. But 14 it's not, because these young children appear on these 15 videos, and God knows what happens to the videos in this 16 cyber age, but they never really can be sure that they are 17 gone.

18 This case, it's worse than that, because it's a 19 knowing person with whom the evidence would indicate you had 20 very direct and repeated conduct and contact. So the nature
21 is very serious. And that factor goes against you.

22 Secondly, when the Court considers the weight of the 23 evidence against the person, it's not the weight of the 24 evidence that you did or didn't commit the crimes that are 25 alleged against you. It's rather, the weight of the evidence

U.S.A. v. Randy Montante

1 as to the risk of you not appearing and the risk of danger to 2 the community. That's the weight that I'm looking at.

3 And in this case, that factor also goes against you,
4 because the weight of the evidence is very strong as to 5 danger to the community, because -- and it might have been 6 different if you had learned her real age and stopped. But 7 that's not what this evidence indicates. This evidence
8 indicates an obsessive, ongoing series of communications
9 after knowing her age, after being warned by her mother that 10 indicated not only an unwillingness to stop, but of also 11 grave consideration to the Court, a desire to cover your 12 tracks, a desire to hide this behavior, a desire to continue
13 the behavior as furtively as possible.

14 And quite frankly, treating the person who was 15 trying to protect her, as one would expect, her mother, as 16 though she were somehow a fool.

17 Also, there is a strong evidence that cuts against 18 you of risk of non-appearance. I know that there are things
19 that we can do to try to make it so that you won't move out
20 of this district or move out of this country, but you do have 21 strong ties to a foreign country, you do have significant 22 foreign travel experience.

23 And while I know the passport can be taken away, I
24 also know I don't know your status with respect to being able 25 to get dual citizenship. And on top of that, I know from

U.S.A. v. Randy Montante

1 experience in this courtroom that people do tend to go across
2 international borders without passports. It can be done and 3 it is done.

4 But also to the point, there is some indication in 5 the communications that the Court has reviewed that you and 6 the minor victim have exchanged addresses, that you know
7 where she is, which both goes to danger and goes to incentive
8 and risk of you fleeing to her location.

9 And a tether is only as good as you wearing it. The 10 day it's cut, we don't know where you are. And you also have 11 incentive to flee in this case because of the significant 12 penalties that you're facing, penalties which, by the way, 13 are reflected in the communications themselves as you having 14 been aware of them.

15 The third factor we look at is the history and 16 characteristics of the person. And that factor has some 17 positives in your behalf. You've stayed out of trouble with 18 the law. You have -- are apparently planning to pursue
19 higher education. You've had a -- looks like a pretty steady
20 job. Those are factors that cut in your favor as to your 21 stability.

22 Nevertheless -- and by the way, I acknowledged this,
23 I acknowledged it before. You apparently have strong family
24 ties. That's cuts in your favor, a family that cares about 25 you, a family that is apparently willing to step up to the

U.S.A. v. Randy Montante

1 plate for you.

2 So all of that is good. Your drug history appears
3 to be not much to get the Court's attention. Let's put it
4 that way. Although I recognize that you have some other
5 substance issues that could be dealt with better.

6 So that goes in your favor, but then I look -- in 7 looking at history and characteristics, characteristics also
8 demonstrate why this evidence, a very obsessive type
9 personality with respect to communications with this child
10 and a very -- I can only characterize it as a damn the 11 torpedoes kind of attitude, that regardless of the fact that 12 you now knew that you were in waters that were dangerous,
13 continued to plow ahead.

14 And in many senses, this evidence would indicate a
15 daring the Court or rather the law enforcement to catch you,
16 knowing it was inevitable and trying to come up with the 17 excuses and playing your way around it. That type of 18 deception is a characteristic that the Court considers that 19 goes against you.

20 So on that third factor, I can only say there are 21 mixed attributes that go one way and some that go the other.

22 Fourth is the nature and seriousness of the danger
23 to any person or the community that would be posed by the 24 person's release. We've had some argument today here about 25 whether danger to this particular minor victim is the thing I

U.S.A. v. Randy Montante

1     should be focusing on, or danger to other children.

2             I think there's both. I think there's a very
3     serious danger to the minor victim in question. And I think
4     that, because after knowing her age, after being confronted
5     by her mother, after being told by her mother that she was 6     going to go to the police, nevertheless, you lumbered on,
7     according to this evidence, not only communicating, but
8     specifically asking her to partake in sexual acts, asking her
9     to cover tracks, asking her to delete communications, asking
10    her to delete apps on a daily basis. And by these 11    communications, every few minutes, quite frankly.

12            It's extremely conniving, and it's extremely 13    deceptive and it's extremely dangerous, because it's an 14    indicator to me that direction from this Court would not be 15    heeded. It's an indication to me that this level of interest
16    in this child is so obsessive that it cannot be prevented
17    going forward.

18            I'm also very, very troubled, although I know it's 19    perhaps minor in the scope of everything else that I've heard
20    today, and I quipped about it earlier, but I think the 21    brazenness with which you responded to the mother of the 22    child who is trying to protect a young girl, essentially
23    telling the mother to go to hell, makes me believe that you
24    would say the same to this Court were I to impose conditions
25    upon you.

U.S.A. v. Randy Montante

1           So the Court finds that the presumption has not been
2 overcome in this case. Let me see if there is anything
3 further I wanted to say on the facts or as the evidence.

4           The Court is also troubled, although they're not
5 pornographic in nature, by the images of four other young 6 girls in the 11 to 13 year old category in their 7 undergarments, selfies, pajamas. Even if it's not 8 pornographic, it is an interest that is not appropriate and 9 is indicative of danger and interest in children of that age.

10           The Court is also very, very concerned about the 11 place that's been proposed for you to stay, which is at a
12 home that is very close to Divine Child grade school, two 13 parks, a few blocks away from a high school.

14           I also note the four trips to the Philippines, most 15 recently within the last year.

16           I also note, although it was not pointed out to me
17 by either of the counsel -- if I can find it. I note that 18 during your communications with the undercover agent,
19 specifically on August 5, 2016 at 4:29 and 12 seconds, a 20 communication that you sent to the minor victim said, "Don't 21 grow up too fast."

22           It's pretty clear you knew you were dealing with a
23 young child and were getting a rise out of that as well, even 24 after you knew it.

25           I think this child is at serious risk if I were to

U.S.A. v. Randy Montante

1 let you out, but I also think more generally that other
2 children would be at risk.

3 So I find that the presumption has not been 4 overcome. Even if it had been overcome, I make the 5 alternative finding, that no condition or combination of --
6 and I make this by a preponderance of the evidence -- that no
7 condition or combination of conditions can reasonably assure
8 your appearance.

9 And further, I find by clear and convincing evidence
10 that no condition or combination of conditions can reasonably
11 assure the safety of the community.

12 Accordingly, I'm ordering that you be detained, and 13 that you be committed to the custody of the United States
14 Marshal service.

15 DEPUTY COURT CLERK: The preliminary exam with be 16 August 24th at 1:00.

17 MS. SMITH: Your Honor, I have two matters before we 18 close the record, if I may?

19 THE COURT: Yes.

20 MS. SMITH: The first is that I'm requesting a no
21 contact order be part of this order of detention, no contact
22 with minor victim one, either directly or indirectly. And 23 that means him personally or third parties trying to contact
24 her in any way.

25 THE COURT: Mr. Wise, I assume you don't have any

U.S.A. v. Randy Montante

1 objection to that?

2 MR. WISE: I assume that should my office find it
3 appropriate to try and interview minor victim one, that that
4 would not violate the no contact --

5 THE COURT: No. We're talking about direct contact.

6 MR. WISE: No, I -- well, indirect contact is an
7 agent of Mr. --

8 THE COURT: Obviously, you need to prepare for 9 trial. I'm not prohibiting that.

10 MR. WISE: Right. So with that understanding, we 11 have no objection to that order.

12 MS. SMITH: Thank you. Secondly, I would just ask 13 that the electronic portion of this hearing not be put up on 14 the public docket, but be made available in case somebody
15 wants it, but not be placed on the ECF, and I can talk
16 sidebar if the Court would indulge me.

17 THE COURT: I would like you to, please.

18 (Sidebar conference held off the record)

19 THE COURT: Anything further on this matter?

20 MS. SMITH: No, Your Honor. Thank you.

21 MR. WISE: No, Your Honor. Thank you.

22 THE COURT: Thank you.
